After Denys proposed on the front porch of her family's home in Hyannis Port, Louise knew she wanted to be married on Cape Cod. The Wianno Club was the clear winner for the venue and the couple couldn't have been happier with their choice. With only one design request, lots of spring flowers, Louise left the rest to her florist and planner. Allison Wilder Liset, of Elegant Engagements, was an integral part of the process since Louise was living in New York during the planning stages. "We could not have lived without Allison - she knew every vendor and was able to work magic," Louise explained. The clear top Chase Canopy tent was brought to life with an abundance of white flowers and spring branches which complemented the coastal views perfectly. "The pure joy on Denys and Louise's faces as they entered their reception and saw for the first time the cumulative effect of our elaborate planning, was so incredibly rewarding. The guests had so much fun they didn't want to leave!" exclaimed Liset.
