

EMILY GAMELIN
to JEFF VICKERS
7.11.13

Featured Vendors

PHOTOGRAPHY

CORINNA RAZNIKOV PHOTOGRAPHY

RECEPTION, CATERING & CAKE/

DESSERT CHATHAM BARS INN

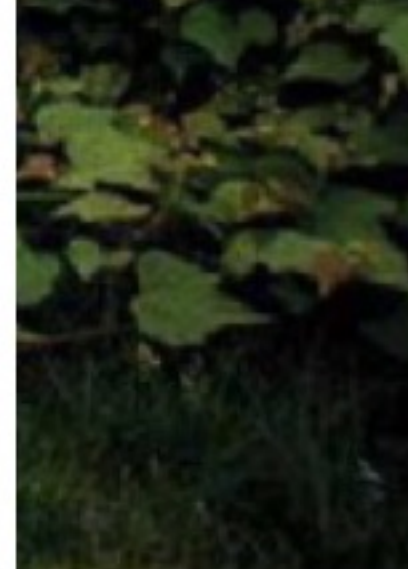

FLOWERS

PATRICE R. MILLEY FLORAL DESIGNERS

REHEARSAL DINNER

WEOUASSET RESORT AND GOLF CLUB

See resources for additional information

After seeing the aqua rattan chairs available on-site - "They reminded me of the ocean," Emily says - she decided to complement the hue with a classic navy, white and pale pink color scheme. From the aqua bridesmaid dresses to the lush peony bouquets created by Patrice Milley, every element of the day brought out the summer season. "When it came time to plan our wedding, I embraced every detail," says Emily. "Jeff always told me that the best events are ones where every detail has been carefully considered and I wanted to make sure our wedding lived up to that!"

Prior to their marriage, Emily and Jeff spent countless weekends together, lunching at the Beachcomber in Wellfleet, and as dinner guests at a friend's beachfront home in Chatham. When Jeff proposed in his coastal hometown of Duxbury, it seemed fitting that beachside nuptials were to ensue. "Chatham was where our love began," says Emily. "We landed on the Chatham Bars Inn because it exudes a casual and beachy feel, which seemed like the ideal representation of our personalities and what we envisioned for our wedding."

BY DANIELLE RACITI

346

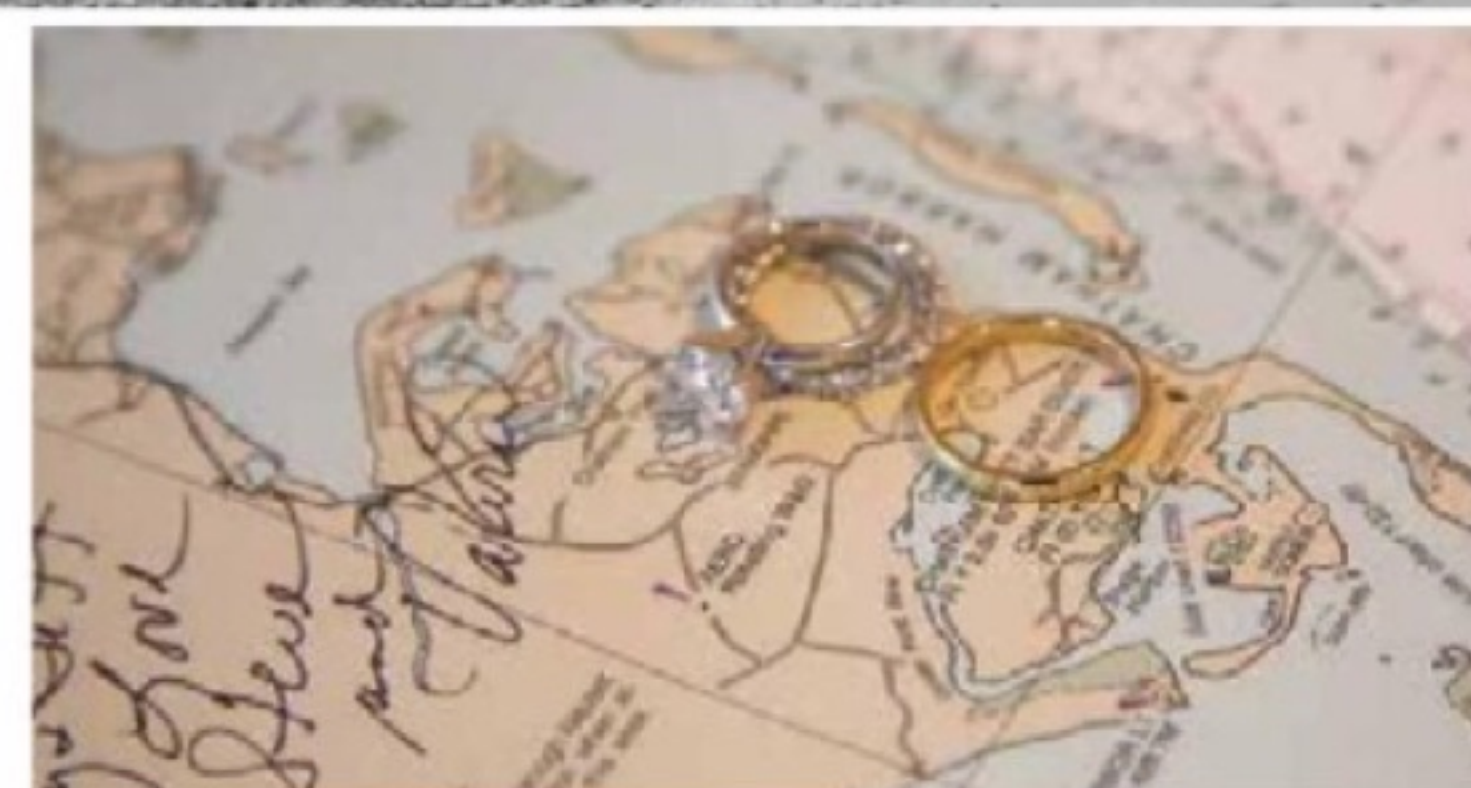

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND WEDDINGS

REAL WEDDING | CAPE COD & THE ISLANDS

Other details of the day included a starfish motif carried throughout the paper products, including on gift bags for guests, the ceremony programs and reception menu cards, and a Pink Greyhound cocktail served with a straw and monogrammed stirrer to match Nantucket, another beloved place for the couple, inspired the blue and white hydrangea arrangements nestled in lightship baskets used for the ceremony.

For Emily, her happiest wedding moments were when she and Jeff were officially announced as husband and wife for the first time while inside the church, and as they descended the stone steps to enter their cocktail hour in The Boathouse.

"Emily, with her classic looks and beautiful blonde chignon, was a dream to photograph," says photographer Corinna Raznikov, "but there also was a crisp feeling to the wedding with its [color scheme] that was really fun to capture. On top of all this 'eye candy,' Emily and Jeff gave each other so many loving, knowing looks, which was wonderful for a documentary-style photographer. It was a joy to watch how the couple genuinely appreciated one another all day."

REAL WEDDING | CAPE COD & THE ISLANDS

Their weekend-long celebration kicked off with a nautical-inspired clambake on the patio and extended through Sunday brunch with friends and family.

Lisa arrived at the wedding in a white Rolls Royce, and the couple posed for photos with a stunning backdrop of the golf course, picturesque red barn and charming cranberry bogs. The cocktail hour, complete with a signature "Cape Cod Fizz," was held outside before guests moved into the ballroom for dinner and dancing, where they were treated to grand views of the 18th hole.

ALEXANDER WEINTRAUB 8.17.13

BY ALLISON HERZOG

On an afternoon hike at Devil's Den Preserve in Weston, Connecticut, Lisa playfully mocked Alex's racing heart, thinking it was from the modest hike. Little did she know his heart was racing for another reason, and it was then that he got down on one knee and asked Lisa to marry him.

Featured Vendors

RECEPTION, CATERING & REHEARSAL
DINNER WILLOWBEND
LINEN RENTAL RENTALSUNLIMITED
FLOWERS LILACS FLORALS

Photography by David Murray
See resources for additional information

Choosing Willowbend for their wedding reception was an easy decision for the couple. Lisa's parents had recently moved to the community, and they'd seen so many lovely weddings while dining at the Grille Room during the summer months that they knew it would be the perfect place for their own. "We were very impressed with the versatility of the venue. The simple yet elegant décor of the club provides a great canvas for weddings of all different styles," says Lisa.

more >

